Hepatitis Awareness Month – CDC Says Boomers at Risk & Should Get Tested for Hepatitis C
May is Hepatitis Awareness Month. Hepatitis is inflammation of the liver, mostly by viral infections. The CDC reports that viral hepatitis is the leading cause of liver cancer and the most common reason for liver transplants. Approximately 4.4 million Americans are living with chronic hepatitis, and most do not know it. Baby boomers, particularly African Americans born from 1945 – 1965, are twice as likely to have Hepatitis C. More.
